(adsbygoogle = window.adsbygoogle || []).push({}); It's a complete news reader that supports RSS feeds with some very basic user-friendly features like importing, exporting and most of all, reading articles in full detail without leaving the application. What makes it worth its weight in gold, is that it also supports remote feeds through its built in web interface. This allows you to also receive feeds from the websites hosted on your own server. You don't have to install a local feed importer or configure a website, because NorthReader Crack does it all automatically. You're able to point your feeds to the URLs provided by your own webserver without any configuration necessary. You don't have to be techy at all to use it. You are given the option of setting the title for your feeds as well as a description. You are also able to include images in the article or not. Overall, this is a neat little app with some potential. The only thing I'd want to see added to it is the option to receive the feeds in a full detail, without leaving the application. There's also the option to add feeds in the application's own RSS import dialog, but I don't think that it's a very user-friendly option. NorthReader Crack Mac Requirements: Android: 2.0.1 or above. Cracked NorthReader With Keygen News: One of the biggest news reader problems out there is that not all news websites deliver their articles in the same way. For example, Yahoo's website will have all articles in plain text format with each article having a list of titles and headlines, while some other websites will provide a list of headlines and a detailed summary (or even a full article). In order to make your news-reading experience a bit more efficient, NorthReader Serial Key allows you to have two different view modes, which enable you to read articles in different

I also want to add and remove markers on the map. I've found a similar question here: Remove markers and add them again from google maps But he left the code untranslated, and I am having trouble translating the code to PHP. He uses: if (marker == null) { marker = new GMarker(point, icon); map.addOverlay(marker); } else { map.removeOverlay(marker); marker.setMap(null); map.addOverlay(marker); } Is there a simpler way of removing and adding markers on the map? A: You can use the following code to remove and add markers to Google map: if (marker != null) { map.removeOverlay(marker); marker.setMap(null); } marker = new google.maps.Marker
