UwAmp is a Wamp server. Download Alternative of UwAmp Sponsors Secure Windows 10 With Windows Defender Having built Windows Defender into Windows 10, Microsoft has provided a wealth of features and tools to help everyday users keep their computers secure. We've built these features with you in mind, and wanted to take a moment to explain how they work together to stop security threats before they reach your PC. To help make sure your PC is running the best version of Windows and your PC is as protected as possible, we've built Windows Defender into Windows Update. If you're running Windows 10, a dialog box will appear in the lower right corner of the Windows Update window prompting you to download and update Windows Defender. Click Install now to perform an automated scan and identify any updates you might need. Or you can click Check for updates manually to explore what updates are available in the Windows Update catalog. When you choose to download and update Windows Defender, the dialog box will appear again, this time prompting you to download and install Windows Defender updates. If you are running Windows 7 or Windows 8.1, an option to download and install Windows Defender will appear in Windows Update. Once Windows Defender is updated on your PC, you'll see two new warning icons appear in the system tray (usually at the bottom right of your screen) next to your clock. Whenever you're on an open web page, we display a warning icon to alert you to any security threats you might encounter while browsing. You can click this icon to see a list of security threats detected in the web browser, or click it again to have Windows update the list of detected threats. Microsoft makes sure that Windows Defender protects against a broad array of attack techniques, and we regularly update the technology that supports Windows Defender. Microsoft will also continue to provide security updates for Windows Defender, including the next critical updates for Windows Defender scheduled to begin releasing in July and August. Note: The Windows Defender icon does not appear on Windows devices that do not have a Windows Defender feature that checks and scans for and blocks malware. If you have a Windows device that does not have Windows Defender, or if you're not running a browser that supports the Windows Defender icon, please see the Windows Security section of this article for additional information about Windows Defender.
