Advertisement Plot : Nepal and Tibet are fighting for sovereignty over their land. China demands that all nationalities living in those lands must move to China. However, the people fear that moving to China may lead to destruction of their culture and religion, so they decide to stand up and fight back against China's invasion. Biography : Nepal and Tibet are two countries which share the same geographical and political boundaries, but have been historically divided. Nepal is the biggest country in Asia, while Tibet is the third smallest. They have been in a conflict over their sovereignty for many years. The two countries are officially different countries with different language and culture. Many years ago, Nepal's King Gyanendra seized the kingship by force. The people were not happy with this action, which led to riots. The Tibetans, seeing the example of Nepal, tried to seize the Karcham Wangchu monastery to resist Chinese invasion. This led to a tense conflict between the two nations. The people of both nations are patriotic. They have an army, an army of resistance. But what they need is a leader. The story of this movie tries to tell the people to create a leader for this army. On one hand, the government in Nepal is weak and corrupt, and the government in Tibet is also corrupt and weak. The army is not unified yet. They are all strong individually, but they need to gather together to fight against the country's enemies. There are many countries, many people in this world. And when there are many people, they are always divided into different groups. A group is like one nation, one country. When there are many group, they do not have a common leader to lead the group. Let alone a common leader. They just fight with each other. In this movie, we travel back to the past to see what has happened. We want to see who is the strongest among the different group? And at the end of the movie, we'll see who becomes the strong group's leader. I have watched this movie three times already. The first time I watched the movie, I was very impressed with the movie. I thought the story was very good, the action scenes were great. However, this movie carries a lot of messages. According to me,

This hysteresis loss will be accentuated at higher temperatures such as those encountered in a "hot fill" scenario, as the elastomeric product will remain warm after it has been heated to an elevated temperature so as to maintain acceptable physical properties. Such products will thus "cold flow" to a much lesser extent at the elevated temperature. Elastomeric products comprising a blend of vinyl aromatic polymer and a rubbery polymer are known as well.
