What's new in Discouraged Workers TEEN:

Evil Buster is a British boys' friendly comedy television series broadcast by ITV. The show ran from 1964 to 1967 and was one of three television presentations by YTV Enterprises for ITV, (ITV was a subsidiary of the London based Central Independent Television and the rest of the ITV network). Series overview The series is about a group of schoolfriends who formed an animatronic cat-fighting act with main characters Buster the genius and Smashy the villain. The series was produced in black and white, and featured a number of arcade games including Whack-A-Skivvy, Freezeway and Syber. In addition, three characters ran alongside Buster and Smashy's series. These three characters were Hilda the High School Headteacher, Batter the Typist, and Rhubarb the Science Demon. The series was of very high quality for its time, with fast-paced slapstick and animation style for a children's series. In addition, it was the first British children's series which showed a fashion conscious community, with its teenagers wearing trendy clothing, often hand-me-downs from their parents (this notion was confirmed when parents later complained that their children were being too influenced by television). The show aired on Sundays, attracting an audience of 6 million. It started at 6.25pm and was then repeated every weekend at 6.25pm. The series aired from 1964 to 1967 with a total of 16 episodes.

Characters

Buster: A genius robot, he is obsessed with developing the world's first force field machine (nicknamed Fizzers). He is beset with problems by the rich snobs of Englefield Hall School and is constantly trying to outsmart them. Each episode usually ends with Buster's creation's downfall.

Smashy: A villain robot. She is a tomato-powered robot, who although she is the villain, is still a kind person. She and Buster generally have a rambunctious, knock-knock quarrel, by the end of the episode she is usually defeated by Buster. Each episode ends with Smashy being hidden inside her shell, only to have Buster persuade her to not shut her out, by smacking her head.

Buster's Robot Helpers

Hilda Ballantine. High School head-teacher. Hilda is always very demanding and determined, and has a tendency to foist her theories onto other people. She finds things quite hopeless, and has a tendency to

"There is a man with an illness who is suffering as if he has not got the slightest illness. He has been called 'Muslim' and he is suffering from the fear of not being a Muslim." (Narrated by Bukhari, Volume 4, Hadith 751). A true Muslim must be strong of character, have dignity, and be happy in spite of his difficult circumstances. A true Muslim must be free from the debilitating effects of his shortcoming. A true Muslim is he who has excellent faith and trust in Allah (SWT). 1. Trust in Allah (SWT) This is the foundation of all 'Ibadat' or virtuous actions, for it is his righteousness that will draw Allah's gift of guidance and protection. It is the capacity to live with the knowledge of Allah (SWT) that enables a Muslim to remain brave, strong and happy even in the face of torment. 2. Freedom of Choice A Muslim is free to choose between good and evil. Allah (SWT) orders us to fight him with what He has given us (Tawrat: 2:190). But a Muslim will not use God-given weapons to kill his fellow human being. He will only fight with those who oppose his religion and who oppose the message of Allah (SWT). 3. No Persecution The command of Allah (SWT) regarding persecution of other faiths is not in the Koran. It is a tradition. And it is a practice that is being carried out by
