Can this be done, where is the Menu Trying to use my usb cable for a USB stick with a wireless router on the stick. Also when plugged in USB should be recognized as it is as a network port. The stick -is recognized as such but the router shows no network devices. I'm connecting my galaxy tab to my wireless internet router through bluetooth. The pic is the side with the usb cable plugged in. Any ideas? thanks A: Have you tried moving the USB stick out of the way, close the port, and see if the network connectivity will then become available? If it does, then it's probably something that's happening on the Tab itself, but I suspect that if it still doesn't work, then the problem is with your router/AP. Q: How can I validate UITextField's text before saving the model? In my app I have a table view, where I allow users to set a "Password" for their account. I am using core data and to save the password I have to provide a "Password Requirements" UIAlertView before it can save to the model. How would I go about preventing the user from being able to save to the database unless there is a "Password Requirement" met? A: You can override your model save's method to validate your password. Validation is a good pattern to follow, validating your password is important to the user's security.
