Record Breaking DJ, Jamie Berry, will be one of the first top DJ's to play at this event that will take place at Indooroopilly Racing Club in Cardiff on Friday 19th to Sunday 21st of November. Next Thursday 23rd is the DJing CSA event that makes the most of the European Style of House, but for me it's the main event the following day that's the highlight. Most DJ's would be put off playing on the anniversary of an event that's going to be such a rammed event. There's 3 big lines being built, that's why it's the biggest such event that they've got. The DJ line is up 2 years, the dance line is already at capacity, but the Hospitality line will be bigger than ever before as loads of people are going out to events and staying in hotels overnight. There's all sorts of people coming in, and that's why I'm looking forward to playing at this event. It will be incredible and I'm looking forward to the weekend. I can't wait for the main event as I'm still discovering new music and that's why I always appreciate the independent parties, like the Afterparty that I played in a couple of days ago, and more importantly, having a nationwide party such as the one in Glasgow, where all of the artists I've played with, are going to be there. I'm flying out to Australia next week (staying at the Indooroopilly in Cardiff) so the CSA event on Thursday is the only time I've seen these amazing artists in the same room, and won't be able to bring all of the tunes with me, but what I'm going to do is bring the best tunes from my discogs and play through them on the big stage. I'm going to play live, plug in the PA and let people see what I've played the night before. And we're going to do that at night, so it's going to be an epic show and I'm really looking forward to playing with these guys again. Mumford & Sons have announced that they will be playing a one-off concert at Newbridge House in Cloughaneely, Co Meath on Saturday 15th June
