- This add-on simulates a Yahoo! Widgets-like folder on the desktop, complete with custom icons, to which you may drag your own Widgets. - The widgets and their custom icons may be resized for use in the KDE Panel. - You may configure the size and location of the folder on the desktop. - Widgets can be installed to the folder for launching from the KDE Panel. - Widgets can be made persistent by storing their launch configuration in the location `~/kde/widgets`, if desired. - You can give your Widgets individual names, and set custom icons. You must have a Working Internet Connection in order to Install this Add-on. Installation Instructions: - Login using your KDE account, which is the primary way to install Add-ons. - Go to the Add/Remove Programs section of the K Menu. - Find the Add-on that you wish to install, and click the Install button. - Click here to learn how to create a KDE Account. - Follow the instructions to Create a KDE Account, or skip this step if you have an account. - Click on OK. - Click on OK. - You will now find an icon on your desktop, and the information will appear below it. - You may now drag and drop your new Widget to the desired location. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the top of the K Panel or to the bottom of the K Panel, and/or to the System Tray, if you'd like. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the right of the K Panel, in the Panel's Vertical Spacing. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the left of the K Panel, in the Panel's Vertical Spacing. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the bottom right of the K Panel, in the Panel's Horizontal Spacing. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the top right of the K Panel, in the Panel's Horizontal Spacing. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the right of the K Panel, or to the left, in the Panel's Horizontal Spacing, and/or in the System Tray. - You may drag and drop your Widget to the bottom left of the K Panel, in the Panel's Horizontal Spacing, and/or in the System Tray. - You
