White Star Rising offers a unique blend of the Squad Leader experience with the depth of a turn-based strategy game. You'll lead your squads and small units of Allied and German soldiers from the beaches to the inner German borders. Like an action-RPG, you'll attack and defend objectives while battling the enemy at your own pace in auto-save mode. Then, you'll command your units with true manual control. You can pause any time and make multiple saves at any point in the game, to use as your reference when planning next-level attacks. White Star Rising takes place in a new location every time you play, so no two games will be the same. You'll choose a faction to play as in any game: the German Wehrmacht, or the Allied OSS, Rangers, and Resistance forces. You'll fight your way across France and Belgium and into Germany, free them from the Nazis or bring them down to defeat. Key Game Features: White Star Rising Battle Pack 2 sets 1944-45 as a battleground where armies clash in Europe. It's a titanic struggle that pits the advanced weaponry of the German Army against the airpower, artillery, and ever-improving soldiers of the Allies. You can play as the Germans or the Allies in World War II, led by the most famous commanders in the histories of both sides. Features: 10 Scenarios including the fight for Normandy, the Battle of the Bulge, the liberation of the Netherlands, the Battle of the Rhine, and Operation Market Garden. Variety of combat types, including vehicles, infantry, weapons, and even explosives. Manual, random map generation that allows for virtually infinite replayability. Realistic weather affecting both the battlefield and your ability to move, move, move. Mixed genre battles, including small unit infantry and vehicle combat, big unit armor battles, and even historical reenactments. True

What's new in Oliver:

Championship (Proving Ground) Contents Robot Fight Championship: Proving Ground (RFC: Proving Ground for short) is an ongoing monthly player-run tournament in the world of Settlers of Catan that uses VTT as a method of opponent selection. There are two ways to play one each month: The winning combination of colors is selected randomly by the judges. The tournament is set up with 3 or more brackets, with a Winner being determined at each stop. Players do not have to be players but must be capable of participating as either table captains or judges. Judges can come from any combination of prior players or the community. The RFC: Proving Ground uses the InnerCircle Play structure, but all Matches are at a similar time, and are not rowdy. Please note that: The RCTC: Proving Ground is a Wearer's Tournament, this includes the Table Chair as Wearer. Matches are set in the fashion of tournaments, please notify your teammates for your team list to be included. The Proving ground is not PvP because the base faction is Catan so really fighting with anything but a faction can be viewed as fighting in a different faction's system. Players must share full sets of player materials and will be locked in so players should be friendly. New Forum Threads: Need to be a Robot Fight Champion Mod or oversee a tournament, or want to observe the Robotic Demigod (you can setup a Tournament from within the event box).

making it work. I want it to remove N times the first word (where N is the number entered by the user), and the second word is the second word and so on. I've tried this:

def start(): text = raw_input("Enter text: ") start = int(raw_input("How many words should be removed? ")) print text.split()[start] start()

I also tried this:

def start(): text = raw_input("Enter text: ") start = int(raw_input("How many words should be removed? ")) words = [text.split()[start]] print text start()

But I cant get it to work, I don't know what am I doing wrong. I just want it to delete N number of words from the start of the string, and I'm not sure what the name of my function is, since I'm not really sure what I've
