The reason I started posting this thread is because I've been playing this game for days and I've seen quite a lot of hate and negativity because of things like the story, the lack of levels, bosses, level designs, and equipment design. The game is just a massive disappointment. In my opinion, the game is really fun and it's fairly balanced, but it's not made for the type of player who is looking for a challenge or a game that'll have them come back to play over and over again. Its fun for a week or two tops before you realize that there's nothing you can do to level your character or gear up or gain any levels of experience. The amount of grinding you have to do is ridiculous and its boring. To put it in perspective, if you want to spend 1-2 hours just grinding levels to make your character level 30-50, you have to do that for every class, so in total, you'll have to grind for 12-18 hours just to level up your character to at least the 30 mark. To get all of that grind out of the way in 4 hours is impossible. To increase to 10 levels per hour, I had to spend 10 hours per level or more. This is the EXACT reason why the game is so bad. It's not fun to put in 3-4 hours to level up your character. You literally end up wasting 3-4 hours of your day on the game. I know people spend all day and night grinding levels like I did, and people are complaining that they need to grind for days upon days to get a character to level 30 or even level 40. I even watched a post that said that people are complaining about the lack of leveling up, and this is apparently the main reason why you get hate on this game. If they level up daily, then everyone would be playing this game 24/7 and everyone would have the same currency and characters. On the lack of levels,

In order to know more about systemic lupus erythematosus (SLE), the presentation of the cutaneous vasculitis (CV), and the possible correlations between these two, a retrospective study of the SLE and CV found in the charts of the Histopathology Unit of the Public Health Microbiology of the INNSZ was undertaken. Among the 1,199 SLE that were diagnosed between 1986 and 1990, we found 55 cases of CV (4.66%), and we also found that SLE and CV presented coincidently in 7 out of the 55 patients (12.73%). Since 1987, cases of SLE associated with CV have decreased dramatically, from 0.56% in 1986 to 4.66% in 1990. From 1987 to 1990, the mean age of patients with SLE and CV was 45.71 years +/- 10.6. The main manifestations that were associated with SLE and CV were: Raynaud's syndrome (61.81%), Arthralgias (42.36%), and Raynaud's disease (36.36%). The main clinical forms of cutaneous vasculitis were: necrotizing vasculitis (30.18%), vasculitis without epidermal necrosis (30.18%) and urticaria vasculitis (26.82%). Only one patient with SLE and CV died during the studied period. The results of the study show that the CV is a rare manifestation of SLE and there is a statistical association between the two diseases (p The invention relates to a xerographic printing machine having a plurality of paper feeders, wherein different sheets of paper can be printed with a succession of jobs one after another. Fix a point $p=(1/2, 0, 0) \in L$ and insert $n$ arbitrary parallel segments between the points $p$ and $q_i$. Figure \[fig.bad1D\] shows these parallel segments. Suppose $A$ and $B$ are the second moments of the length of $n-1$ segments. Let $A_i$ and $B_i$ be the second moments of the length of $i$ segments forming $L$. Then $A_n = n A + 1$, $B_n = n B$ and $$\begin{aligned} A = \sum_{i=1}^{n-1} A_i, \qquad B = \sum_{i=1}^{n-1} B_i. \label{eq.AB1D}\end{aligned}$$ To compute second moments $A_i$ and $B_i$, we draw $n-2$ segments between points $q_i$ and $q_{i+1}$ and with the binormal vector $\bm b_i$ at $q_i$ construct a sphere $S$ centered at $q_i$ with radius $\bm b$
