The Panama Papers leak has led to further revelations about how rich and powerful individuals hide their wealth and evade taxes. Mossack Fonseca, one of the Panamanian law firms implicated in the investigation, has gone bankrupt. On Tuesday, the company released the final of four Panamanian Papers reports; it links 12,577 offshore companies to the law firm. This latest report shows that companies in the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, and the Seychelles are the most connected to Mossack Fonseca, says the Guardian. The Seychelles and the British Virgin Islands were the most connected countries to the Panama Papers. The British Virgin Islands has a strong connection, with 35 companies linked to the law firm operating in the territory. The Cayman Islands followed, with 11 companies. The 12,577 corporations linked to Mossack Fonseca held property and investments totalling $8.8bn.
