In jquery validation how can I restrict user to enter the date time field to the current datetime only. Not change the current datetime? and how to change the format of the text field to "yyyy-MM-dd HH:mm" after entering the time. A: You can use momentjs Example:

function timeValidate(myform) { var date =
    myform.date.value; var check =
moment(date).format('YYYY-MM-DD HH:mm');
    if(check!== currentDate){ return false; }
    myform.date.value = ""; return true; } $('#myform').submit(function() {
        if(!timeValidate(this)){
            $(this).siblings('.message').show(); }else{
```

```
$(this).siblings('.message').hide(); } }); Edit:
function timeValidate(myform) { var date =
myform.date.value; var check = currentDate;
if(check!== moment(date).format('YYYY-MM-DD HH:mm')){ return false; } myform.date.value = "";
return true; } $('#myform').submit(function() {
    if(!timeValidate(this)){
        $(this).siblings('.message').show(); }else{
$(this).siblings('.message').hide(); } }); 2018 TCR
