With colorful, easy-to-learn combat tactics and game modes ranging from single-player online and offline battles, through multiplayer team games, third-person-shooter-inspired on-rails gameplay and objective-based team deathmatch modes, the "demo" of the "demo" is the complete package. Vast innovations for the combat system, including control options for the first and third person as well as the ability to aim freely and through walls, expand the arsenal available to the player as they upgrade from pistols to rocket launchers to mega-bot weapons. Guests at a range can now target enemies from across the table, and don't need to get up close and personal to get the job done. The Alphas team continues to make improvements to gameplay with new weapons and weapon attachments that guests can use from even further away. The PC online multiplayer maps can be played with up to 64 team players, and both the "Host Mode" (team deathmatch-style) and the "Invade Mode" (capture the flag style), as well as the "Team Deathmatch" game type, can be played cooperatively or competitively. Within the host, the game can be played as single player over several maps, or players can participate in a deathmatch game. The game also features a "Smooth Movement" option for players who prefer the option of turning off the fluid and realistic movement of enemies and moving more slowly through the level. Online, five game modes are available for those who prefer to play that way, including the popular "Insane" mode which allows for cooperative gameplay across all players. For a brief "demo" and a look at the "demo" in action, download "The Demo" now. A new Alphas mode is added, called "Tech Storm." This unique mode is an online cooperative mode where players have to protect two AI alphas in a special building from invading forces. A new online multiplayer mode is added, called "Plasma" mode. In this mode, two teams clash in a circular arena for control of a rectangular section of the map. Players are rewarded for the first to eliminate the opponent's entire team. This mode comes with an additional online multiplayer map, a larger 40x40 map called "The Resurrection." To learn more about the game, including in-game footage, download the press release "The Rainbow Six

Features Key:

Challenge the animals to play a knockout tournament in a handicap set up
A crazy specific turtle has had a stroke and likes nothing better than to warm up his neck muscles with a little exercise.

The players will fight from a single point of view and the laws of the cage will be played by a referee.

How to play:

Put the animals on the deck. Anyone can start the fight by pressing on the 'Fight!' button. The player who pushes the button first will enter the fight while the others will become spectators. Each round will last 15 minutes. If the fight lasts less than 15 minutes the child will press the 'Restart' button and will get the chance to fight again. Don't forget to restart the fight if you shut down the game.

At the end of the game, the child will get points for every animal that reached the end of the fight. For every animal in the fight, the child gets 100 points. The animals are ranked and will fight from 1st place to 4th place. The top 4 will take part in the final fight for big prizes.

At the end of the game, the child gets a specific worth in points. This depends on the ranking of the animals which has been carried out at the end of the fight. The animal with the highest rank will receive the biggest worth.

Strategies:

If you want to win the fight, start by throwing fast punches and evading the attacks of the other animals. Press "Pause" and show off your speed while watching them wasting their energy.

It's always a good idea to roundhouse kick other animals.

If you want to embarrass the opponent, don't hesitate to use special features on them.

And do the strategy according to your players strength. Do they like to be hit hard, or like to fight from the distance?

Save the most powerful animals for the final fight to cause some damage. It's always better to win by KO. Do

's Weekly Recap (9/2/14) The world is our boxing sandbox. We got to see some great fights last weekend (Pietro Sellatore vs. Steve DeJose and Yvvan Martinez vs. Sean McCorkle). We'll have no shortage of surprises this week. It's another busy weekend of action with some title contenders and prospects stepping up for some familiar names like Jose Palacios and Mikhail Kornilov. Aaron Rafael returns against James Jones in a title unification, Khabib Nurmagomedov makes his featherweight debut against a fighter whose name you already know, and Oscar Chapa sees his undefeated record snapped by Juan Carlos Sanchez. Saturday's World Welterweight Title Fight, Eduard Troyano, Weigh-In: Troyano (10-0, 8 KO's) made his WEIB last week and got another fight last weekend, so it's safe to say he has earned his last fight for the title. Troyano will fight former world title challenger Jose Palacios, who has stopped all of his opponents in the process. Troyano vs. Palacios takes place Friday, September 12th at the MGM Grand Casino and Hall. The Showtime Boxing pay-per-view is scheduled to start at 9:00 p.m. ET / 6:00 p.m. PT. It can be seen live on Showtime, CBS, HBO and on closed circuit at the MGM Grand Theater in Las Vegas. Jason Garcia returns to the boxing ring in just his second fight back after a record-breaking run as a 2x English Welterweight champion. Team Garcia will boast an 11-0 record by the time the bout rolls around, with all 11 wins by KO/TKO/UD. Jason's opponents in his comeback fight will be considered the third best fighters on Garcia's resume. Garcia meets opponent James Jones at the Argue Ballroom at 45th and Broadway in Chicago. The bout is scheduled for 4:00 p.m. CT and will be televised by WGN-TV. The bout can be seen live on Showtime Extreme and on closed-circuit networks coast to coast. Garcia said, "I welcome the opportunity to experience the excitement, intensity and hype that comes with standing on the American soil; only to compete in one of Chicago's most
