No, I haven't changed my screensaver theme. My system is now on Windows 7 but I'll try to reinstall the screensaver and see if it works. OK, after reinstalling I was still getting the same error. As an image forming apparatus of the electrophotographic type, there is an apparatus to which a simplex scanner is connected. As such a simplex scanner, there are a scanner to which a charge voltage is applied by using an AC voltage signal from a signal generating circuit and a scanner to which a charge voltage is applied by using a DC voltage signal. Since the scanner to which the charge voltage is applied by using the DC voltage has only the charge voltage application time, it is insufficient in charging the surface of an image bearing member to a certain potential. Demo of nfsIDFly screensaver. nfsIDFly ScreenSaver Review: This is a plain graphics screensaver with some size, well balanced and overall neat graphic style. It has the ability to alternate between one or more fireworks and a simple screensaver. It will be greatly enjoyable for both monitors with built-in screensavers and to those with regular monitors. The screensaver will run on any kind of monitor, from the Apple and other PC monitors to older CRTs (no additional software installation required). In addition to its attractive graphics, nfsIDFly has a couple of very useful characteristics: it will wake up your computer, it will show off different animated colors depending on the DPI settings, it will clean any glitches in your monitor, and more. In the nfsIDFly screensaver, these celestial objects happen to be painted in different colors based on your choices for fireworks. These colors are: Pink, Blue, Yellow, Green, Orange and Gray, respectively. The fireworks also use the same colors. You can decide which colors you want to use. You have to select the first color in the small window at the upper left corner of the screen and then you have to click on "Choose fireworks" and a list of possible fireworks will be displayed at the bottom right corner of the screen. And the fireworks that you've selected will then be animated for you to enjoy, one after the other. The screensaver has a few options that will allow you to customize its appearance or behavior. All the options are displayed in the top small window of the screensaver. The first of these is the options panel. You can find it by clicking on the "Options" button in the lower right corner of the screensaver and then, when you have the option panel displayed, you can use the options within it to change the screensaver. You can always come back to the option panel and make changes to the screensaver simply by clicking on the "Options" button in the lower right corner of the screensaver. The second option that you have is the motion settings. You can find this by clicking on the "Motion settings" button in the upper right corner of the screensaver and then, when you have the motion settings panel displayed, you can change the motion settings for the screensaver. The motion setting is the number of jumps for the fireworks to get from one color to the other
