Resolucion Financial Angstrom.Q: Need to implement an AC with a variable in it I am trying to create an arduino based AC to control the temperature of air conditioner. In that i have a circuit diagram as shown in the figure. A L (inductor) is connected in series with R1 and C1 is connected in parallel with a capacitor. R4 and R5 is also connected in parallel. Q1 and Q2 are a transistor each. R4 is 4KOhm, R5 is 10KOhm, and C1 is 23pF (these are dependent on the actual values). If i replace the values of C1 and R5, Q1 and Q2 can form an oscillator. But i have to find the values of L1 and L2 so that L1(L2) is variable. Please help me to find the correct values of L1 and L2. Any help will be much appreciated.

A: Adding the DC voltage to the parallel resonance R-L circuit will change the number of poles, thus changing the oscillation frequency. As you can see with a few graph pieces you could have multiple solutions to the same problem. To eliminate it you will have to figure out a specific application, as there are too many variables to look at without knowing the application.

Q: How do I convert a list of strings in to a tuple? Please take a look at this code: `#!/usr/bin/python3` from random import * numbers = ['one', 'two', 'three', 'four', 'five', 'six']

while True:
    print(random.choice(numbers))
