Color Screen Calendar Model 8190 Manual

A: You need to separate the three integer values, i.e. make them a string and then parse it: `re.split(r'\d', s)[:3]`
As to the second problem, I'm going to answer it for all three strings (I'm assuming you only want to match the ones which look like model number): `import re s = ""\ Color screen calendar model 8190 instructions Read Online Colored led back light display with weather trend indicator that shows you the weather forecast for your current location and local weather forecast in. A: You may use `str.rsplit(...)` to get the individual sections out:

import re
lines = re.split(r' {3}| {3}$', data, 3)

then you can use `dict.fromkeys()` to quickly convert them into a dictionary.

import re
from collections import defaultdict
```

---

lines = re.split(r' {3}| {3}$', data, 3) d = {k:v for l in lines
              for k, v in dict.fromkeys(l.strip().split(), defaultdict(list))} print(d)
yields: {'Date:':
['01/24/2015', '01/28/2015',
'03/01/2015'], 'Display
