Ashrae Duct Fitting Databasel |BEST|

Download

This database is a tool for engineers sizing a duct run. The software does not allow the use of approximations for duct types, since the data required to calculate a final value is quite cumbersome to obtain. This is an app for ASHRAE 62.1 that allows you to perform comprehensive minimum ventilation calculations for a wide variety of commercial buildings based upon Standards 62.1-2007 and 2010/2013 (which are essentially the same). This app is based upon the 62MZCalc.xls Excel spreadsheet that accompanies each copy of the ASHRAE 62.1 Users Manual. You can do pretty much everything in this app that you can do in the Excel spreadsheet, in addition to creating multi-system projects and emailing results so you can perform further analysis. Built-in feature: Calculate passive heat gains (PQ) based on the ASHRAE 62.1-2008. Also includes the ASHRAE 1104A, and its ASHRAE 1104A-Rev. 1, and 1104A-Rev. 2 (see below) versions for most ASHRAE ducting systems. I am a fan of the ASHRAE 62.1 Manual. I have used this manual from time to time for the past 40 years to perform ASHRAE 62.1 calculations. This app offers a great alternative. It could probably be used to perform all of the calculations that the ASHRAE 62.1 Manual would be used for. I don't personally use that much of the other stuff in the 62.1 Manual to use this app, since most of those functions are fairly simple to perform manually, if one is inclined to use the manual. The app's user interface is simple and quite easy to use. The results are generated in a reasonable fashion. It is not as fast as using the ASHRAE 62.1 Manual, but it is about 30 percent slower.

---

---
