L was attempting to arrange a picnic for himself and his new-found friend, who he had taken under his wing after meeting on a killing spree, and their pet, but one of the Shinigami refused to reveal his name. L reluctantly accepted the Shinigami in exchange for the deed to the people's most valued possession, but as they depart they realise the act of using a Death Note is selfish and immoral and has undesirables written all over it. When Ryuk is used to take away a young boy's life, L begins to suspect that the Shinigami may be wiser than he thought.
