I download the x64 drivers from the microsoft site. but they are not working. they open the crystal eye but it is black. it doesnt react when i am clicking on the camera button. any help is appreciated Does anyone know how to get a crystal eye cs4280 working under windows 7.. I have tried the drivers on the download site from microsoft but that does not work for me.. It worked fine in windows vista Drivers for Windows 7 x86 are included on this page. Driver for Windows 7 x64 is posted at the bottom of this page. You need to download and extract each driver. Microsoft system files are available for download for all three driver types. The reason your crystal eye cam is not functioning is that the driver is not working properly. Get the latest drivers for your crystal eye cameras from the following location on the web: http://www.webgeekpages.com/crystal-cs4280-cm-driver-download-windows/ On Ubuntu: You could also try using the vendor-specific driver file that you download from the website listed above, as mentioned here .
