Positively Sensitive

Positively Sensitive is the debut EP by American singer and songwriter Laura Mvula. The EP was released through City Slang on January 23, 2018. Mvula co-wrote all the songs and co-produced the EP with Tucker Martine. Background In March 2017, the singer began to release her first single "Make Love" in anticipation of her debut EP Positively Sensitive. The EP was released on January 23, 2018.

Critical reception The EP was generally well received by critics. Daniel Bromfield of Pitchfork wrote, "She creates these lush, warm, and unforgettable bubblegum-soul moments that make the whole album impossible to forget. The EP, which she co-produced herself, is a perfect introduction to her ethereal, otherworldly sound, and it's full of positive, unapologetic messages." In a positive review for Complex, Jules Crittenden wrote, "It's a fresh and uplifting EP that proves that behind Mvula's sometimes-dark looks, lies a glowing, and very real soul. And she's just getting started. A star is born." The Washington Post writer Katelyn Ortega wrote, "Mvula creates hazy landscapes on this first EP, focusing on vocal runs and slow, plodding beats, but she breaks free and sways to the melody on a few tracks, most notably "Young God" and "Skipping Stone." "Stay High" is downright anthemic, perhaps the best track on the whole record."
